GENERAL COMMITTEE'S REPORT

AT that moment when the events of a past year are reviewed and recorded it is a natural inclination to try to fit the events into a pattern, and to try to endow the year with a character distinguishing it from others. It is an inclination to which too free a rein must not be given. The backward glance of one moment may seem to afford a view which will not present itself at another moment only a little later in time, and an impression may be quite changed at greater distance. In the same way speculation about the future, which tends to accompany any review of the past, is also dangerous, more particularly when as at present the scene is changing with great rapidity. This Report is being put on paper on the eve of the announcement of plans for a comprehensive hospital service nationally organized. Those plans may be known to the reader by the time these words have been set in print and made available. It is not a propitious moment for anything but a mere record of fact.

Nevertheless, something more may perhaps be risked, and the picture which suggests itself, commonplace though it may be, is of a ship which touches port after an arduous section of its voyage. It is commonplace because it describes, and has often enough been used to describe, the emergence of the country as a whole from the years of war, and indeed the Hospital shares with others the general emotions of the time. There are ways, however, in which the comparison has its own aptness to the affairs of the Hospital.

First there were the celebrations at a successful ending, celebrations spontaneous and formal, unorganized and organized, enjoyed alone or in common with others, and facilitated by the generosity and kind feeling always shown on such occasions, and which found expression in the case of the Hospital in such gifts as those of the City and the Walter Harding Trust. Then there were the meetings and the partings. Some are to be welcomed back who rejoin after service elsewhere. Dr. Ashcroft, Dr. Brookfield, Dr. R. W. Gemmell, Dr. Goodyear, Mr. Hawe, Mr. McGibbon, Dr. McKenna, Mr. Oldham, Mr. McKie Reid, Dr. Sutton, returning or due to return to the Honorary Medical Staff, Mr. W. F. Leather, Sir John Nicholson, Mr. Ian Parker, Mr. Whitson, Mr. Walker, lay members of committees, all are congratulated on the safe completion of their war service. Some will not return, and their loss is felt. To many it will be a sad blow that C. H. E. Jones must now be presumed killed, and on the medical side the death of W. S. Diggle, none the less tragic because he served at home, is added to the previous loss of W. J. Eastwood and Donald Owen. Others whom this year has taken are H. H. Alexander and H. Carleton Walker, both committee members, the latter for nearly a quarter of a century.

It is a time also for partings of another and more happy kind. Miss Nicholson, Miss Tinkler, Professor Leyland Robinson, and Dr. Mather retire after many years of distinguished service, and good wishes go with them. Dr. Murray Bligh, Dr. Broad, Mr. Hallam, Mr. Heaney, Dr. Johnson, Mr. Simpson, Dr. G. F. R. Smith, Dr. Stopford Taylor, and Professor Herbert Williams will all be terminating an association with the Hospital which they extended beyond its normal span in order that help might not be lacking when it was needed. The Hospital extends to them its good wishes and its thanks, as also to those like Mr. Leathart and Mr. Phillips, who came from outside to help. Sir Arnold McNair and Mr. Monsarrat are gone to new fields, each leaving the memory of a distinctive contribution to the problems of war-time.

The course to be steered during the last few years has not been smooth. The Hospital has come through because it could depend on the loyalty, not only of those whose names are mentioned here, but also of all who in various ways have shared the task. Each of the branch hospitals has some special service to acknowledge, and the gratitude of the Southern Hospital to its stretcher-bearers typifies the debt that is owed to many who in all four hospitals have performed duties which were unadvertised but not unnoticed. The nursing staffs, of course, cannot be too highly praised ; they must always be the most important single element in setting the standard. It is a standard, however, which could not be maintained without an equal devotion from the domestic staffs, the porters and the cooks and the stokers, and the administrative and professional staffs of all grades.

And so the ship has come to port. Repair and reconversion is now the order of the day. Slowly the change from war to peace takes place, and old functions are taken on again. During the past year the end of war has been reflected in the gradual reduction of the amount of accommodation required by the Government for its Emergency Medical Service, and on the other hand by the increase in the allowance of resident doctors. The Hospital has participated, as generously as any other hospital in the country, in the scheme for the retraining of medical men returned from the Forces. Light and air are coming back to the wards as the supply of labour makes possible the removal of protective works. Repairs long delayed can now be planned and executed, though not without considerable expense at enhanced prices. One item alone, the replacement of boilers at the Royal Infirmary, is costing £11,500, and there is everywhere an accumulation of work which is greater in total than it would have been if it could have been dealt with as occasion arose. Most formidable of all, there is the immense undertaking of preparing for occupation the old premises of the Northern and Southern Hospitals, shortly to be freed after more than six years in other hands and serving other purposes. Here there is war-damage to be repaired and much reconversion to be done, all of which will take time. There will, however, be as little delay as possible. The two hospitals are grateful for the hospitality they have received at the hands of the City of Liverpool and the authorities of St. Katharine's Training College, but they are anxious to return to their own homes.

Normal work and normal development, though restricted, do not stand still while all these special problems are demanding attention. Patients still have to be seen and treated, and the volume of work during the year has remained much the same as in previous years, as is shown by the following comparative figures :—

			In-patients admitted.		New Out-patients.
			1944	1945	1944	1945
Royal	...	...	7,897	7,076	66,330	62,425
Northern	...	...	3,444	3,250	13,639	10,002
Southern	...	...	2,865	2,923	24,788	23,503
Stanley	...	...	1,725	1,800	26,773	29,018
Total	...	...	15,931	15,049	131,530	124,948

The total number of out-patient attendances for the whole Hospital was 387,953.

To carry on a business of this size with efficiency calls for constant development, quite apart from new ventures. During the year the X-ray Department of the Stanley Hospital has had to be reorganized and equipment renewed. The Gynaecological Department at that hospital has been expanded by the allocation to it of an Assistant Honorary Surgeon. The facilities for the treatment of tropical diseases at the Royal Infirmary are being reviewed with the appointment of Professor Maeraith as Honorary Consulting Physician for Tropical Diseases. Rehabilitation has become a general concern, with particular emphasis at the Southern Hospital on the provision of an Occupational Therapy Department, and in this field there is hope of further activity in co-operation with the Woolton Convalescent Home. The School of Physiotherapy at the Southern Hospital has more than doubled its intake of students. There is closer working with the Liverpool Cancer Control Organization. Central administration is being brought under one roof following the appointment of Mr. W. J. Lamb as Finance Officer and the purchase of a house in Rodney Street where he and his assistants can join the Secretary to form a combined staff. Much energy has been given to the search for additional accommodation for nurses, so that staffs can be increased, when the supply is available, for the shortening of working hours. Similar efforts have been made to provide more beds for private patients. Salary scales in many categories have been raised, and financial arrangements have been made to cover the cost of treatment of nurses who become patients in outside hospitals. It is indeed largely on account of such expenditure that the annual running cost of the Hospital has risen from its 1944 figure of £246,000 to the figure of £260,000, where it now stands. It is not surprising that the balance of income over expenditure has fallen to £5,899. There would have been a serious deficit if unrestricted legacies, amounting to over £40,000, had not been taken into account.

Nevertheless, the Hospital is in fact paying its way, and has capital funds available. Shipwreck, which seemed perilously near a few years ago, has been avoided, and plans have been made for voyages on new seas. It has become increasingly apparent in recent years that in addition to its curative work, which is the basis of all else, the Hospital must take an ever greater part in teaching and research. The past year has seen the establishment by the University of two full-time clinical professorships, and from a wide selection of candidates two members of the Honorary Medical Staff of the Hospital, Mr. C. A. Wells and Mr. T. N. A. Jeffcoate, have been appointed the Professors of Surgery and of Gynaecology and Obstetrics respectively. Both have received the congratulations of the Hospital, which will have the honour of providing for the University the clinical side of Professor Wells' department. The new University Department of Neurology will also be housed in the United Hospital, and steps are being taken by the Hospital to set up a Department of Plastic Surgery. These special activities have to be fitted into a general framework, and in the midst of day-to-day problems the Medical Board is not neglecting the formulation of a long-term policy.

That long-term policy still hinges on the proposal for a single new Teaching Hospital to replace the four existing branch hospitals, a proposal which has taken on new significance as some of the special teaching hospitals, following discussions in the Associated Voluntary Hospitals Board, have come to the view that in due course they should transfer themselves to the site which will be chosen for the new United Hospital. The ideal of a great Teaching Centre is beginning to take the imagination, but to some extent its realization is dependent on the practicability of the United Hospital's own scheme. Has this question of practicability been considered ? Voluntary subscription could not nowadays provide the necessary funds.

It has in fact been considered at great length and with much thought. It was constantly in mind even in the darkest days. A year ago the details could not be revealed, but on the 3rd October, 1945, the general public was made aware, by a discussion which took place in Liverpool's City Council, that a culminating point had been reached after long negotiations. On that day the City Council approved in principle a scheme for participating with the United Hospital and the University in the erection and management of a new Teaching Hospital, to be administered in the tradition of a voluntary hospital. It was hoped that the necessary capital funds would be found by the United Hospital, the City, and from Exchequer grant, in roughly equal parts. The United Hospital was ready with its subscription, and subject to further discussion of details the City would follow suit when the Exchequer grant could be promised. The "voluntary" representatives and the City representatives would be equal partners in the management, and the University would also have a substantial number of seats on the governing body. A new Act of Parliament to amend the Hospital's existing Act of Incorporation would be necessary, and accordingly a draft Bill was forthwith prepared. It had seemed that the scheme was in line with the policy of the Ministry of Health.

But meanwhile the composition of Parliament had changed, and the new Government needed time to make its own larger plans before committing itself on the question of how the Liverpool scheme would fit into those plans. This was understandable and inevitable, but it meant that as the year ended the future for the Hospital had suddenly become an uncharted sea.

That situation will soon be remedied, if it is not already remedied by the time these words appear. The broad picture will be known, but perhaps it will not at first be clear under what orders the ship will sail again. It may be under new ownership. It may be chartered but operated by those who operate it now, with a small or large measure of freedom. It may be put into entirely new hands. Whatever happens, it can never be said that the present owners were without imagination, foresight, and an intelligent policy. Nor can it be said that they failed in their task. The standards by which the hospital service of this country is judged today are the standards set by the voluntary teaching hospitals themselves. A change of ownership, though it might be claimed as desirable on other grounds, could not be justified on any suggestion that standards had been reached which the voluntary teaching hospitals had failed to achieve.

Nor can it be said of the United Hospital that it had become insolvent. In all the financial difficulties of the times, and when the prospect of great changes is well enough known to all, the United Hospital finds that its voluntary income is maintained, that its investment income is increased, that beds are still being endowed, not only by legacy, but also, as in the case of Mr. J. W. Mann, by donation, that the staffs of firms like Messrs. Rootes and Messrs. Littlewoods still come with gifts counted in thousands of pounds, that a single individual like Mr. Thomas Pegram can make a gift of £250, and that a family like that of the late Dr. Garnett Sheldon can wish to perpetuate a name by the creation of a Special Fund. It is interesting also that in the past year legacies in the name of the United Hospital, which as such came into existence only eight years ago, were as large in amount as any which were received through wills made in favour of the branch hospitals before amalgamation ; and the income collected in individual small amounts directly from the public, through the agency of the branch Superintendents (with notable success at the Southern Hospital) were not reduced.

For all these gifts, as for the continued help of the Merseyside Hospitals Council and the London Midland & Scottish Railway Hospital Fund, the Hospital expresses its gratitude. It is gratitude not only for money received, but also for the proof of the esteem in which the voluntary hospitals are still held.

Perhaps the secret of that esteem is the service which is given to the individual patient, and in its turn that service may be due to the fact that the management of a voluntary hospital has always had two characteristics : it is founded locally, directly from the community in which the hospital does its work ; and it is independent, both of the politician and the bureaucrat. These characteristics give a flexibility and a freedom which are essential in a matter so intimate as the hospital care of the individual patient, and which are of supreme importance in medical education and research. It will be well that this should be remembered. There are more ways than one in which a ship may run aground.

On behalf of the General Committee,

R. H. ARMSTRONG,

Chairman.

MATRONS' REPORTS.

Liverpool Royal Infirmary.

Thirty-seven candidates entered the Preliminary Training School, of whom thirty-four were successful in passing on to the Hospital. Four Nurses left for various reasons, sixteen completed their contract of training, and four were directed under the Control of Engagement Order, before completing their contract. The majority of those who left joined the Services, entered for Midwifery training or went into Sanatorium nursing.

Sister Jean Preston was appointed Night Sister, and Sister Bronwen M. Jones replaced her in Larrinaga Ward. Sister Florence M. Whitely replaced Sister Durant in the Out-Patient Orthopaedic Department. Sister Pillers left on being appointed Ward Sister at the Royal Free Hospital, London. The vacancy in Ward Ten was filled by Sister Glynnes Roberts, who was replaced by Sister Graham Clark as Sister of the Casualty Department. Sister Fielding resigned to become a missionary overseas, and was replaced in Ward Four by Sister Ogwen Jones. Sister Audrey Parsonage will become Sister of the Tropical Ward when it re-opens.

After outstanding Army Nursing Service abroad since February, 1940, we are pleased to welcome the return of Sister Middleton as Senior Home Sister ; also Sister Egerton, who received the A.R.R.C. in the New Year Honours, who has returned as second Theatre Sister.

Two Belgian Sister Tutors were our guests during October, for the purpose of seeing our methods of teaching and how British hospitals are organised. They proved most appreciative of all that was done for them.

Miss Lane, D.N., London, examined in our own Final Examinations, in which all were successful. Twenty-five passed the Preliminary State Examination. Twenty-nine passed the Final State Examination and eleven passed Part One, S.C.M. Examination.

The Annual Meeting of the Ladies' Linen League and Nurses' Prize-giving was a successful and enthusiastic gathering. Sir John Shute was in the Chair, and the Lady Mayoress of Liverpool (Lady Sefton) presented the medals and prizes. The first recipient of the Elizabeth Pearson Prize, value thirty pounds, was Pauline Julian.

We were delighted to welcome many of our members who had returned from War Service overseas at the Annual Meeting of the Nurses' League and Reunion, and felt very proud of their fine record of service. The Lord Bishop of Liverpool (Dr. Clifford Martin) gave an inspiring address, and the Lady Mayoress (Lady Sefton) and Sir John Shute were present as specially invited guests.

I should like to thank those members of the Honorary Medical Staff who have so kindly given lectures to members of the Nursing Staff during the year.

MARY JONES, Matron.

David Lewis Northern Hospital.

During the year, eighteen Nurses completed their training, twelve left to undertake Midwifery training, and six to take up various posts elsewhere. Twenty-three candidates entered for training. Eighteen Nurses passed the Final State Examination and twenty-two the Preliminary State Examination.

Dr. L. Cunningham, Mr. J. H. Rawlinson and Miss A. Watts conducted the Hospital Final Examination. The Gold Medal was won by Miss M. Wright, and Matron's prize by Miss Mears.

Miss Edwards, who received her training and later held the post of Out-Patient Sister at the Northern Hospital, was awarded the M.B.E. in the New Year Honours List.

A Student Nurses' Unit of the Royal College of Nursing was formed early in the year, and is now well established. Its activities for the year included a Brains Trust, Lectures, Concerts and Sports.

I wish to offer my thanks to the members of the Honorary Medical Staff for their kindness in lecturing to the Nurses ; to the Ladies' Association for their continued support ; and to the Nursing Staff for their loyalty and co-operation during the year.

MINNIE E. WORTLEY, Matron.

Royal Southern Hospital.

During the year, thirty-three Student Nurses entered the Preliminary Training School ; thirty-two successfully completed the course, but of these nine left during the year, four for home reasons, and five on account of unsatisfactory health. Eleven Nurses left the Hospital on completion of training, seven to take Midwifery training, two to train as Queen's Nurses, one to enter the University, preferring Medicine to Nursing, and one left to be married. One Nurse was directed into Midwifery before the completion of her fourth year.

The resignations of the following Sisters were received : Sister I. Griffin, from the post of Junior Administrative Sister, on a more senior appointment elsewhere ; Sister Zacharias, from the post of Casualty Ward Sister ; Sister McAvoy from the post of " E " Female Medical Ward Sister ; and Sister G. C. Barker, from the post of " H " General Medical and Surgical Ward Sister. The last three resigned for home reasons. The following appointments were made : Sister Martha Thomas, Assistant Sister Tutor, to be Assistant Matron and Sister McLeavy to be Assistant Sister Tutor. Owing to re-allocation and division of the larger wards into two, the following changes and appointments were made : Sister North, Sister of Cubicles " 10 " to " H " Private Ward ; Sister Edna Jones to Cubicles " 10 " Private Ward ; and Sister Margaret Williams, Holiday Relief Sister, to " G " Male Orthopaedic Ward. In April, Miss Viggor, Assistant Matron was appointed Matron, in place of Miss M. Stephens who had retired.

Owing to stated reasons we are not yet in a position to adopt the 96-hour fortnight for other than the Ward Sisters, although some improvements in the hours of work have been made.

The Nurses' Annual Prizegiving and Display of the work of the Ladies' Linen League took place on the 16th April, 1946, when Miss Millicent Moss presented the Gold and Silver Medals (the first obtainable since 1941) and the book prizes. The Gold Medal (with £40) was awarded to Nurse K. V. Hughes, who also received the Junior Silver Medal, which she qualified for in 1944, and the " Dr. Macalister Prize " and prizes for Medicine and Surgery. The Junior Silver Medal was awarded to Nurse L. C. Chandler, who also gained the Ophthalmology prize awarded by Mr. T. J. Phillips. Several other Nurses obtained book prizes. The Chairman, Mr. T. Keeling, welcomed Miss Moss, member of a family who for many years have been friends and benefactors of the Hospital. He also spoke of the valuable work of the Members of the Ladies' Linen League, who contribute so much to this part of the equipment of the Hospital. To the Nursing Staff, he gave an encouraging address on hopes which are entertained for the future conditions of Nursing. Professor O. Herbert Williams, Chairman of the Nursing Committee, thanked the Nursing Staff and congratulated the Prizewinners, making reference to the numerous benefits received by the Nursing Staff from the "John Rankin Fund." He reported that the Chairman, Mr. T. Keeling, had decided to donate the Annual Prize for Senior Practical Nursing, in memory of his wife ; the prize to be known as "The Catherine Keeling Prize."

Twelve Nurses passed the Final State Examination and twenty-three Nurses passed the Preliminary State Examination. I would like to thank sincerely those Members of the Medical, Surgical and Nursing Staff, who have taken part in the teaching of the Nurses.

The Student Nurses' Unit continues to function, and during the year the Nurses have worked to raise funds to provide a radiogram for their sitting room. Mr. B. T. Globe has generously supported their efforts.

E. VIGGOR, Matron.

Liverpool Stanley Hospital.

Six Nurses completed their general training and were successful in passing the State Final Examination. Ten Nurses entered for general training, six of them spending the first eight weeks in the Preliminary Training School of the Royal Infirmary. The other four did not attend the Preliminary School since they are on the supplementary part of the State Register.

The Student Nurses Association Unit continues to flourish and had many activities during the year. The end of hostilities was celebrated by a Victory Ball which was thoroughly enjoyed by the Nursing Staff and their friends. The hospital tennis court was badly damaged during enemy air raids; it is now being restored and when completed it will add to the amenities of the Nurses' social life.

May I acknowledge the unfailing interest the members of the Board of Management and House Committee show in the Nurses' recreation and comfort. Grateful thanks are due to the Committee and Members of the Hospital Linen League for all their willing and valuable help. I have appreciated particularly the Committee's support during the last few years.

I am most grateful to the Honorary Medical and Surgical Staff who have rendered assistance so consistently and readily in the teaching of the Student Nurses. I also thank all members of the Nursing and General Staff for their loyalty and support.

E. B. THORPE, Matron.
